

Stories

from the

Mission Field

The Palawano people have lived for centuries in the secluded mountain jungles on the Philippine island of Palawan. They are animists, which means that much of their life is taken up with trying to avoid and appease temperamental spirits. When the spirits are angry, they cause sickness, death, loss of crops and untold other problems. The Palawano people need to hear about the love, and power and mercy of Jesus.

Justina Thomas is a registered nurse and lay midwife. She has been working in a remote jungle clinic in Palawan for the last three and a half years.

Come July 25 at 7:30 p.m. to hear stories of God's grace among the Palawano. You will see God's heart of love for indigenous people groups who have never before heard of a Savior who actually cares about them, and who is eager to bring them out of fear into peace, hope and health.

Stories

from the

Mission Field

The Palawano people have lived for centuries in the secluded mountain jungles on the Philippine island of Palawan. They are animists, which means that much of their life is taken up with trying to avoid and appease temperamental spirits. When the spirits are angry, they cause sickness, death, loss of crops and untold other problems. The Palawano people need to hear about the love, and power and mercy of Jesus.

Justina Thomas is a registered nurse and lay midwife. She has been working in a remote jungle clinic in Palawan for the last three and a half years.

Come July 25 at 7:30 p.m. to hear stories of God's grace among the Palawano. You will see God's heart of love for indigenous people groups who have never before heard of a Savior who actually cares about them, and who is eager to bring them out of fear into peace, hope and health.